Pre-Read: Getting Ready for the Gumloop Session

Please read this before class and complete the setup steps. The session is hands-on, so everyone needs a working account from the start. Setup takes about 10 minutes.

What you need to do before the session

1. Create a Gumloop account

Go to gumloop.com and sign up. Use whichever email you'll have access to during class.

2. Start the free trial

Don't just create the account — activate the free trial as well. Some features we'll use in class are only available on the trial or a paid plan, and starting it beforehand avoids losing class time.

3. Have a credit card ready

The free trial requires a credit card to activate. You will not be charged during the trial period.

4. Note your trial end date

If you decide not to continue after the trial, cancel before the trial ends to avoid being charged. Put a reminder in your calendar now — a day or two before the end date is a good buffer.

5. Bring your laptop

This is a build-along session. A phone or tablet won't be enough. Before you leave for class, open Gumloop and confirm you can log in.

What you don't need

No prior Gumloop experience is required. You don't need to watch tutorials, read docs, or build anything in advance. If you want to click around and explore beforehand, you're welcome to — but it's genuinely not expected.

Quick checklist

- ☐ Gumloop account created
- ☐ Free trial activated
- ☐ Calendar reminder set for the trial end date
- ☐ Laptop charged and packed
- ☐ Logged in successfully at least once

If something goes wrong

- Can't activate the trial? Try a different browser or disable ad blockers, which sometimes interfere with the checkout step.
- Card declined? Some virtual and prepaid cards are rejected. A standard debit or credit card usually works.
- Still stuck? Message Shyamal before the session — we can sort it out ahead of time instead of holding up the class.

Arrive a few minutes early if you'd like help getting set up. See you there.
