Exploration- The need to experience freedom, novelty and possibility. People in this state are driven by curiosity and a desire to break away from routine. They seek new ideas, places, experiences and perspectives that broaden their horizons and make life feel richer. They value brands that inspire discovery, encourage experimentation and help them embrace the unknown.

Mastery- need to shape one's own life through capability, confidence and agency. People in this state are motivated by the desire to grow, improve and take charge of outcomes rather than be constrained by circumstances. They derive satisfaction from developing skills, overcoming challenges and unlocking their potential. They seek products, services and experiences that empower them to perform better, make smarter decisions and live life on their own terms.

Belonging- The need to build meaningful relationships and feel connected to others. People in this state value companionship, shared experiences and a sense of community. They seek acceptance, emotional closeness and mutual support, gravitating towards brands that strengthen relationships and foster togetherness.

Recognition- The need to express individuality and be seen for who one is. People in this state seek self-expression, appreciation and social affirmation. They use products and experiences to communicate identity, celebrate achievements and create memorable moments. They are drawn to brands that help them stand out, feel special and reinforce their sense of self.

Comfort- The need for emotional and physical ease, reassurance and wellbeing. People in this state seek calm, warmth and relief from stress or uncertainty. They value familiarity, care and environments that help them feel safe, restored and at peace. Brands that reduce friction, provide reassurance and create moments of comfort naturally resonate here.

Security- The need for stability, certainty and control over one's life. People in this state are motivated by reducing risk, protecting what they value and preparing for the future. They seek predictability, reliability and confidence in their decisions, preferring brands that inspire trust, minimise uncertainty and help them feel in control.

“ If that happens, I will succeed as a mother!

What the insight here?

Thought experiment by Peter Singer

You are walking by a river in your hometown. You see a child has fallen in. Most people are obliged to jump in a save the child, even if the water destroys their clothes worth Rs 5000/-

On the other hand, a friend calls and and says a child in Somalia is going to die and he is collecting Rs 5000/- to help. Most people hesitated!
